

Robb Report

25 Extravagant, Over-the-Top Gifts for the Adventurous Tycoon on Your List

What do you get for the person who has everything? Everything else.

What do you give that special person who has it all? For the man who doesn't just ride in private jets—he owns a fleet of them. Ideally, treasures you can't find even in the most expensive boutiques, or peerless experiences that they'd never think of themselves. When the price is no obstacle, the only limit is the imagination of the giver, so we assembled extravagant gift ideas that are sure to elicit childlike joy from even the most spoiled and pampered scion in your life. Many are Robb Report exclusives. From an exclusive safari and sleepover with endangered gorillas in the Congo to a matching Embraer Phenom 300E business jet and Porsche 911 Turbo S, here are our recommendations for the ultimate, over-the-top gifts for your favorite tycoon.

By Land and By Sea

Courtesy The Cliffs at Walnut Cove

Want an escape to both the mountains and the ocean? South Street Partners, owners of The Cliffs outside Asheville, North Carolina, and The Kiawah Island Club in South Carolina, has created an offer for Robb Report readers that includes a mountain residence and oceanfront home, plus a generous list of experiences. The Cliffs at Walnut Cove has plots ready for gracious mountain living, with exceptional views of the area. The property has a working farm for farm-to-table dining, and a Jack Nicklaus Signature Course. The Robb Report experience includes a private cooking lesson with Francis Turk, The Cliffs' senior executive chef; wine-food pairings from its sommelier; a club membership that includes access to the seven golf courses at all seven of The Cliffs properties in North Carolina and South Carolina; a set of custom-fitted PXX golf clubs; and cycling with Tour de France veteran George Hincapie.

With its Tudor style, The Cliffs at Walnut Cove Club offers charm in the heart of the Blue Ridge mountains.
The Cliffs at Walnut Cove

A private flight on NetJets will transport you between Asheville and Charleston, and then to Kiawah Island by Mercedes Sprinter. The Club's Front Nine Lane includes properties with ocean views, and borders a Pete Dye golf course. Lake/Flato architects will work with you to create your dream home. The experience also features a golf-heavy itinerary that includes a game performance diagnosis by Carol Preisinger, Kiawah Island Club's director of golf instruction; a club fitting with Rusty Mazell, the director of club fitting, with customized clubs and bag; a round of golf with the Bryan Brothers, the club's golf ambassadors, on the Tom Watson-designed Cassique or Tom Fazio-designed River Course; then there are spa sessions, shooting lessons, a sportfishing charter, and your catch of the day cooked by a James Beard award-winning chef at the Beach Club. The package starts at $6.5 million, though the company says final pricing will depend on the actual home selection and specific elements of the experience. bwood@cliffsliving.com